Talking Rock Launches Multidimensional eMagazine

Boston, MA – March 24, 2010 – VCT Corporation (www.vctcorp.com) today announced that it has been selected as the ePublishing partner for Talking Rock, managed by OB Sports Golf Management. Located amidst the scenic mountains of Arizona's High Country, Talking Rock is a private master-planned community with all of the amenities of a private country club.

Looking to transition from a print to electronic member communications strategy, Talking Rock approached VCT with several goals in mind, including increasing member activation and retention, engaging members with entertaining content, as well as improving external marketing efforts. The new Talking Rock eMagazine solution created by VCT will help the community achieve these goals while also serving as an added-value offering to current members. Likewise, the eMagazine will serve as a high-caliber prospecting tool for the community's' real estate and membership departments.

Jim Leisenring, General Manager for Talking Rock stated, "We were drawn to VCT because of their fully-managed services. One of our goals for this project was to find a partner who could deliver a professional looking end-product that was conducive to the development of high-quality, personalized content that would really grab the attention of our members and prospects. VCT's process allows us to re-focus our attention to content creation and nurturing member relationships, while their team assumes the more technical responsibilities associated with this cutting-edge communications solution. It's also comforting to know that VCT will be a valuable resource in helping us plan and develop content, all the while remaining focused on industry trends and best practices for member engagement."

"We were pleased to partner with VCT to take Talking Rock's e-communication to the next level", states Kris Strauss, Vice President of Sales and Marketing for OB Sports Golf Management. "Clearly the end result of the collective efforts of both VCT and our Talking Rock team has resulted in enhanced communication and engagement with the membership of Talking Rock."

Stephen Ready, President and CEO of VCT stated, "While private golf communities are still very much desirable to today's consumer, a creative marketing strategy is necessary in order to weather this unfavorable real estate market. Talking Rock attributes much of its success in recent years to its progressive marketing efforts and active membership base. We're confident in this solutions' ability to propel Talking Rock into new territory, yielding even higher results of member activation and retention."
